Welcome back to Term 3

A message from the Acting Principal...

Term three is a crucial term especially within the senior school with our Year 12 students preparing for the QCS test and beginning to plan their QTAC applications. Our Year 10 students are beginning to prepare for their SET Plan interview where they will discuss future career pathways and which subjects they plan to study in Year 11. This week Year 10 students will be involved in a Careers Expo where universities and training providers will provide students with information to assist in planning their future educational and vocational pathways. These processes all form an integral part of Sandgate’s mission to continually “Expanding Horizons” for all students.

Report Cards and Parent Teacher Evening

Report cards have now been posted and contain information about the Parent/Teacher Evening on 27 July 2015. On parade this week I challenged each student to spend some time with their parents reflecting on their report card and setting some goals for semester two. Senior school students will begin completing their Pathways Progress Planner later this week reflecting on their effort and attendance. There are a significant number of students who achieved outstanding academic results last semester and should be congratulated, as should all... students who have achieved excellent effort and behaviour comments for constantly being their best. This semester’s Principal’s Honour Roll celebration will be held on 17th August at 11.30 a.m. in the Performance Hall. Invitations will be sent home in the coming week.

Partners in Progress

A reminder that our Partners in Progress parent information sessions commence at 9.30 a.m. in the Resource Centre on 31 July. Our first session will be conducted by Alastair Smith (Head of Department – Information Technology) and Nicole O’Neill (ICT Coordinator). The session will focus on Cybersafety and will provide parents with some essential information on supporting students in the digital age. The Oval View Café will be operating from 8.30 a.m. to provide visitors with hot coffees and other beverages. A full menu is provided later in the newsletter. We look forward to strengthening the relationship with parents through these sessions over the semester. RSVPs are appreciated, via email to pip@sanddistshs.eq.edu.au

Einbunpin Festival

Sandgate District State High School, in junction with our Parents and Citizens, will be operating a stall at the Einbunpin Festival at Sandgate this coming Sunday. The stall will involve musical performances from our students, and reading sessions for children, as well as some sporting activities. There will be a P and C meeting on 29 July for volunteers who are assisting on the day.

Enrolments

Enrolments for 2015 are rapidly filling up. Please contact the office on 3869 9888 to make an appointment for students wishing to enrol in 2016.

Student Feature – Writer in Residence – Rosie McCrossin

In this edition of the newsletter, I have invited one of our Year 12 students, Rosie McCrossin, to act as a writer in residence and provide a student’s perspective on how to be successful at Sandgate DSHS. Rosie has won a number of literary competitions over the past few years and a glittering career in the literary world awaits her. In this edition Rosie provides an insight on preparing for block exams. A fascinating read for parents and students alike.

School Opinion Survey

The annual School Opinion Survey gives parents, students and staff the opportunity to provide valuable feedback to the school regarding the services we provide. This week, your oldest child will receive an information sheet with a link, logon and password for you to complete this year’s School Opinion Survey. The survey remains open online until 31 July. I encourage you to take this opportunity to provide your feedback.

Year 7 2016 Enrolment Interviews

Year 7 2016 enrolment interviews are being held Saturday August 1.

Please contact our Enrolment Officer on 3869 9888 to make your appointment.

Early School Leavers Survey

The Queensland Government is conducting its annual statewide survey of students who left school in Years 10, 11 and prior to completing Year 12 during 2014. The Early School Leavers survey is a short, confidential survey that collects information about what young people are doing the year after leaving school. The information from the survey helps our schools to understand the pathways young people follow after leaving school and to plan services to support transitions into study or employment for our students.

Between July and August, our students who left school in Years 10, 11 and prior to completing Year 12 last year can expect to receive an invitation to complete a web-based survey or a telephone call from the Queensland Government Statistician’s Office to complete the survey. Please encourage early school leavers to take part.

For more information, visit www.education.qld.gov.au/nextstep/ or telephone toll free on 1800 068 587.

Sandgate DSHS Community Information Sessions

Throughout semester two, Sandgate DSHS will be offering parents the opportunity to be involved in information sessions focussing on some important issues for high school students and their families. Each session will involve a presentation from a member of the Sandgate DSHS staff followed by the opportunity for some questions from the audience. The intention is to provide families with some information that will help students become more successful in the future. Attached is the schedule for next semester’s sessions. Parents can R.S.V.P. to PIP@sanddistshs.eq.edu.au to assist with organisation for the sessions.

Prior to each session, the Oval View Café will be open for business offering visitors the opportunity to purchase coffees, cold drinks and light refreshments while supporting our SEU students. For express service, please add your order to your rsvp.

Year 11 Social Justice Committee Term 3 Project

Last term, the school raised $260 which will be donated to our chosen charity, Kids Help Line. Everyone should be so very proud of their efforts and excited that the money will be used to help answer more calls from young people across Australia.

Term 3 sees the Year 11 Social Justice Committee committed to raising funds for the National Breast Cancer Foundation. The National Breast Cancer Foundation is the leading community funded organisation in Australia raising money for research into the prevention and cure of breast cancer.

The National Breast Cancer Foundation:

- Is a leading community funded organisation committed to research into breast cancer
- Was established in 1994
- Has been awarded more than $115 million to fund over 400 Australian-based research projects
- Has a goal to achieve zero deaths from breast cancer by 2030

We are hoping to raise $400 this term to support the National Breast Cancer Foundation so that they can continue their valuable work. A big thank you to everyone who has already donated to this special organisation, so far we have raised $90 which is a great effort by the school. We will continue our collections until the end of term where we will hopefully reach our target of $400. Remember every donation counts, no matter how small.

Ms. Fong and the Year 11 Social Justice Committee

Diary of a Senior Student

Diary of a Senior Student – Number One

Thinking about exam block does not, or at least should not, begin during exam block, or even the week before it. Complete studying involves keeping the assessment in mind as the content is being learned. This is because learning content for an exam is a very different technique to learning content for an assignment. For this reason, and to be able to form a rational and well-informed viewpoint or understanding of the topic, study during the term should be done with regard to the final assessment. This can be different depending on the subject.

The first day of the assessment block for semester one, 2015 was the English exam, which involved filling a gap or silence in a novel. This was a very specific task which involved a deep and comprehensive knowledge of the text. Often, these texts are complex explorations of the human psyche, and a reflection of this in your story is always necessary. Being able to render and recreate the powerful, base emotions of people is very important.
There will always be key themes in the text which can be utilized to create a story that both reflects and adds to the narrative. Adding understanding to the novel is crucial. Once the key themes are identified, whether you take them from your own understanding or find analysis which provides them to you, brainstorming with dialogue or descriptions is the next step. This brainstorming need not follow any specific format or structure – instead, powerful ideas are key. Imitating the style of the author can be difficult, but often a certain style, whether very descriptive or very minimalist, can be imitated if there is a proper understanding of the novel. These components stem from understanding the key language features – sentence structure, tense and figurative uses. The story should be concise and cover only a short period of time. After reading it, you should see that it properly integrates into the text and expands upon themes and characters in the novel. A proper enhancement of the novel will lead to marks higher in the VHA spectrum.

KEY POINTS

- Study with regards to the exam
- Understand themes in texts
- Brainstorm in a freeform style
- Understand the author’s style
- Expand on the themes of the novel

Diary of a Senior Student – Number Two

The second day of block exam was a Maths B exam, a very different type of thinking to that involved in Authority English. This exam involved a deeper understanding of the topic and a thorough knowledge of the rules and conventions of the specific unit. Knowledge of maths builds upon itself and so a comprehensive knowledge of every unit is needed to succeed in future units. The basics of junior mathematics are often crucial to senior studies and can make life difficult for intelligent students who failed to grasp these in the junior school. Study throughout the term is important for maths, especially for the higher level questions where some of the knowledge is unknown but the concepts can be drawn from some earlier questions. All chapters assigned should be completed and revision of the unit should include revising the powerpoints or worksheets provided by the teacher, higher level questions in the textbook as well as chapter reviews, revision sheets provided by the teacher and any extra revision material. Studying with friends or tutoring peers can also help consolidate knowledge. A full comprehension is the crucial basis of high achievement in maths.

KEY POINTS

- Study throughout the term
- Understand basic concepts
- Complete all work

Music News
Lilydale Heights College from Melbourne is visiting our school Tuesday 21st July.

They will rehearse with SWE, we will have a Bar-B-Que together and then have a performance for our school community at 6.00pm in the performance hall. All are welcome to come and be audience members for this lovely FREE event. Lilydale will reciprocate on our trip to Melbourne!

Einbunpin

Drop into our school stall at Einbunpin on Sunday. We will have some talented performers there as well. The Choir will sing on the Festival Stage at 9.55 so come along and listen. If you can help at the stall, email me on doshe5@eq.edu.au

(If your child wants to be part of our school choir, they can come along on Wednesday afternoons 3.15 – 4.15)

Stage Band

The Stage Band visited Sandgate SS, Virginia SS and Boondall SS last week. The performance was much appreciated – and now more students know how fabulous music is at SDSHS.

The Stage Band will perform at Jazzin’ Up the Mall on Wednesday, July 22nd.

A big thank you to Mr Van for all his wonderful work!

Tour News

The next instalment for the Melbourne tour, $300, is due by the end of July.

Relaaaax!!

Life can get pretty full on sometimes, and when it does it’s important that we know how to deal with it. We’ve all got a bunch of different things that we have to manage, like study, work and our personal lives. When these pressures are being thrown our way, relaxation is a really effective tool for looking after our health, both physical and mental. All it takes is a little bit of time each day to put your feet up and you’ll be benefiting your wellbeing in more ways than one. Stuck for idea on how to relax? It’s not all bubble baths and scented candles – check out some other ways to relax.

Why is it so important to relax?

So, we know that relaxation is good for us, but how exactly? Check out some of the more excellent benefits of getting in some good zen time every day:

You’ll keep your stress levels in check. Stress in small amounts is okay – it motivates us to get stuff done. When it starts hanging around for a long time and affecting our everyday lives, it’s time to take some steps to get it under control. Daily relaxation helps to manage stress levels.

You’ll sleep better. Sleep is not only lots of fun, it also plays a really important role in making sure that we’re functioning our best throughout the day. Find time to relax every night before bed and chances are you’ll find your quality of sleep improves. Check out more info on how to get a good night’s sleep.
Your mood will improve. A great way to improve your mood is to give relaxation techniques like progressive muscle relaxation a go. It involves relaxing the muscles, and it helps to get stress and anxiety under control. It takes practice, but it's worthwhile.

Your memory will improve and you'll find it easier to concentrate. As mentioned above, relaxation usually means a better night’s sleep, which in turn does wonders for our memory and our concentration.

You'll be reducing your chance of physical illness in the long run. Being stressed for long periods of time puts lots of stress on our bodies, especially on our hearts. Make it a habit to relax regularly now, and you'll be doing yourself a favour in the long run.

You'll enjoy it. End of story.

Can't relax?

For many people, daily relaxation is easier said than done. It can be hard to find the time, or you might find that even as you’re trying to relax, your brain is racing through all of the different things you have to do. Like most things, relaxation takes practice, but if you’re having a lot of trouble relaxing it’s a good idea to have a chat about it to someone you trust like a parent, teacher or counsellor. If you’re worried about it, make an appointment with your GP and together you can figure out a plan to get it under control.

What can I do now?

- Check out some of the different ways to relax.
- Set aside half an hour before bed every night to relax.
- Have a look at how music can help with relaxation.

Why it's important to chill out

Relaxation is really important for your mental health and wellbeing. Everyone needs time in their everyday lives to chill out and enjoy themselves, but it’s easy to forget this when things get busy. If you know how to relax, and make an effort to actually relax when you need to, it can be a great coping strategy to help you when you’re stressed out. People who are able to relax are more likely to bounce back from tough times, tend to be happier, have better physical health and are less likely to develop serious mental health difficulties.

How to chill out:

There are a lot of different things you can do to relax and chill out. A lot of forms of relaxation, like walking and sitting quietly, are really simple, easy to do, and don’t take much time. Others require more discipline and some training. Everyone will find some strategies for relaxation work better than others. The best thing to do is try out some of the suggestions below and make the ones that best fit your lifestyle a regular habit.

Some relaxation activities include:
• Going for a walk.
• Taking some time out and really focussing on what’s happening around you. You can people watch or go to a park/outside place and enjoy the fresh air.
• Listening to some music you really like. Music has an impact on our heart rate, so quieter, less intense music is more likely to help you chill out.
• Going fishing.
• Playing your favourite sport.
• Taking a bath.
• Going to a movie or watching a dvd.
• Focussing your attention on a puzzle.
• Reading a book.
• Learning yoga or meditation.
• Practicing meditation
• Practicing breathing techniques

When you’re stressed out or feeling anxious, your breathing speeds up, and becomes shallow, reducing how much oxygen reaches your organs. Learning breathing techniques is a great way of preventing you from experiencing the physiological symptoms of anxiety. To learn how to breathe efficiently:

Become aware of your breathing. Place one hand on your upper chest and one on your stomach. Breathe in so that your stomach rises, and then falls back as you breathe out. The hand on your chest shouldn’t move too much.

Get a steady rhythm of breathing. Try and take in the same amount of air each time you breathe in.

If you’ve managed the two steps above, try and slow your breathing rate down. Add a short pause between when you finish breathing out, and when you take another breath.

It might not feel totally comfortable at first, as it can sometimes feel like you’re not getting quite enough air. But if you practice regularly it should begin to feel comfortable and easy.

If you’re finding it really hard to relax

Sometimes it can be really hard to unwind. It seems kind of ironic to get stressed out about not being able to chill out to reduce stress, but it can be a frustrating experience.

If a particular technique isn’t working try another one. It might also help if you have space away from other people in which to relax, to prevent being distracted.

Tutoring
Does your child need extra help? Falling behind or simply want a step up in class? I can help.

With private tutoring, your child can catch up or gain the extra understanding and skills needed to exceed expectations. I can work with your child at their own pace, helping them to achieve their goals at school, while learning in a comfortable environment free from classroom distractions. Progress reports on subjects and skills will be provided to parents outlining the child’s improvements and strengths.

I am strong across all subjects, however I do specialize in English and writing based subjects. I can also help with homework and general assignment research, planning and structuring, as well as exam preparation and study tips.

Experience

Private tutoring for family members on a volunteer basis including -

- Assisting with day-to-day homework
- Planning and structuring assignments
- Helping with research and arguments
- Editing and formatting assignments
- Exam preparation and skills

Education

- Currently in final year of Bachelor of Journalism majoring in Public Relations and Journalism at QUT
- Completed secondary school at Assumption College in Warwick, QLD, receiving a principal’s award for scholastic, athletic and cultural achievements

Research Study

Do you have a child with a chronic illness? How are their brothers and sisters going?

Researchers from the University of Queensland are seeking parents with at least one child with any chronic illness (for example; Asthma, Diabetes, Eczema, Epilepsy, and Cystic Fibrosis) and at least one well child (without any chronic illnesses, aged 6 – 12 years). The researcher will be conducting home visits and performing interviews with one parent and one sibling of the child who has the chronic illness. Total duration will be less than 60 minutes. Topics of discussion will be based around the impact of the chronic illness on the well children within the family home. The findings of this study will help inform future parenting interventions for children and siblings living within a home with chronic illness. Participants will go into a draw for a chance to win one of two $50 Coles Group and Myer gift cards.
